

Kīlauea Volcano releases gases which are moved towards towns by the wind

The gases cause major health problems when people breathe them in

In 2018, 30 times more gases were released than on average in the last decade

Towns around the Island of Hawai'i were exposed to more toxic gas in 2018 than during the entire previous decade

